

Lesson #5 Redemption of Israel - Isaiah 24:1–27:13

DRAWING NEAR

1. How do you typically respond when people claim the end of the world is near?

UNLEASHING THE TEXT

1. What have you been taught about the judgment awaiting our world at the end of history?
2. Why is Isaiah's praise in chapter 25 an appropriate response to the judgment predicted in chapter 24?
3. What images catch your attention from Isaiah 26?

What do those images communicate?

4. Isaiah 27 describes the restoration of Israel. Why is that good news for the church?

REFLECTING ON THE TEXT

1. If you are a Christian, this world is not your real home. What impact does the fact have on your actions?
2. Scripture is clear about the future destruction of earth and God's final judgement of sin. What should you do in light of those forthcoming events?
3. What does it mean to trust God?
4. How should the church view and interact with the Jewish people today?

PERSONAL RESPONSE

1. What are some specific ways you can cultivate the mindset that this world is not your home and act accordingly?
2. Where do you have an opportunity this week to actively and intentionally exercise your trust in God?
